2021 Employee Wellness Industry Report Highlights

Join us at this webinar to learn ways of analyzing trends, decisions and vendors when creating your wellness strategies.

The wellness benefits landscape is ever-changing.

Brokers and wellness professionals across the country are embracing the transformation of workplaces due to COVID-19 and planning for the year's wellness initiatives. As companies begin to reimagine the future of work, get the latest scoop on wellness investment trends, decision influencers, and vendor evaluation criteria. We will also discuss how the dramatic shift caused by the pandemic will influence the physical workspace, remote work and culture, caregiving benefits, and mental and behavioral health.

About Brigid Courtney, MS

Brigid Courtney is the Director of Thought Leadership for worksite wellness programs at Wellable. Combining a passion for wellness with a background in health education and population health management, Brigid's mission is to help organizations design and implement wellness programs that work. Brigid thrives on creating strategies, seeing employees' lives impacted, and helping workplace cultures change for the better.
